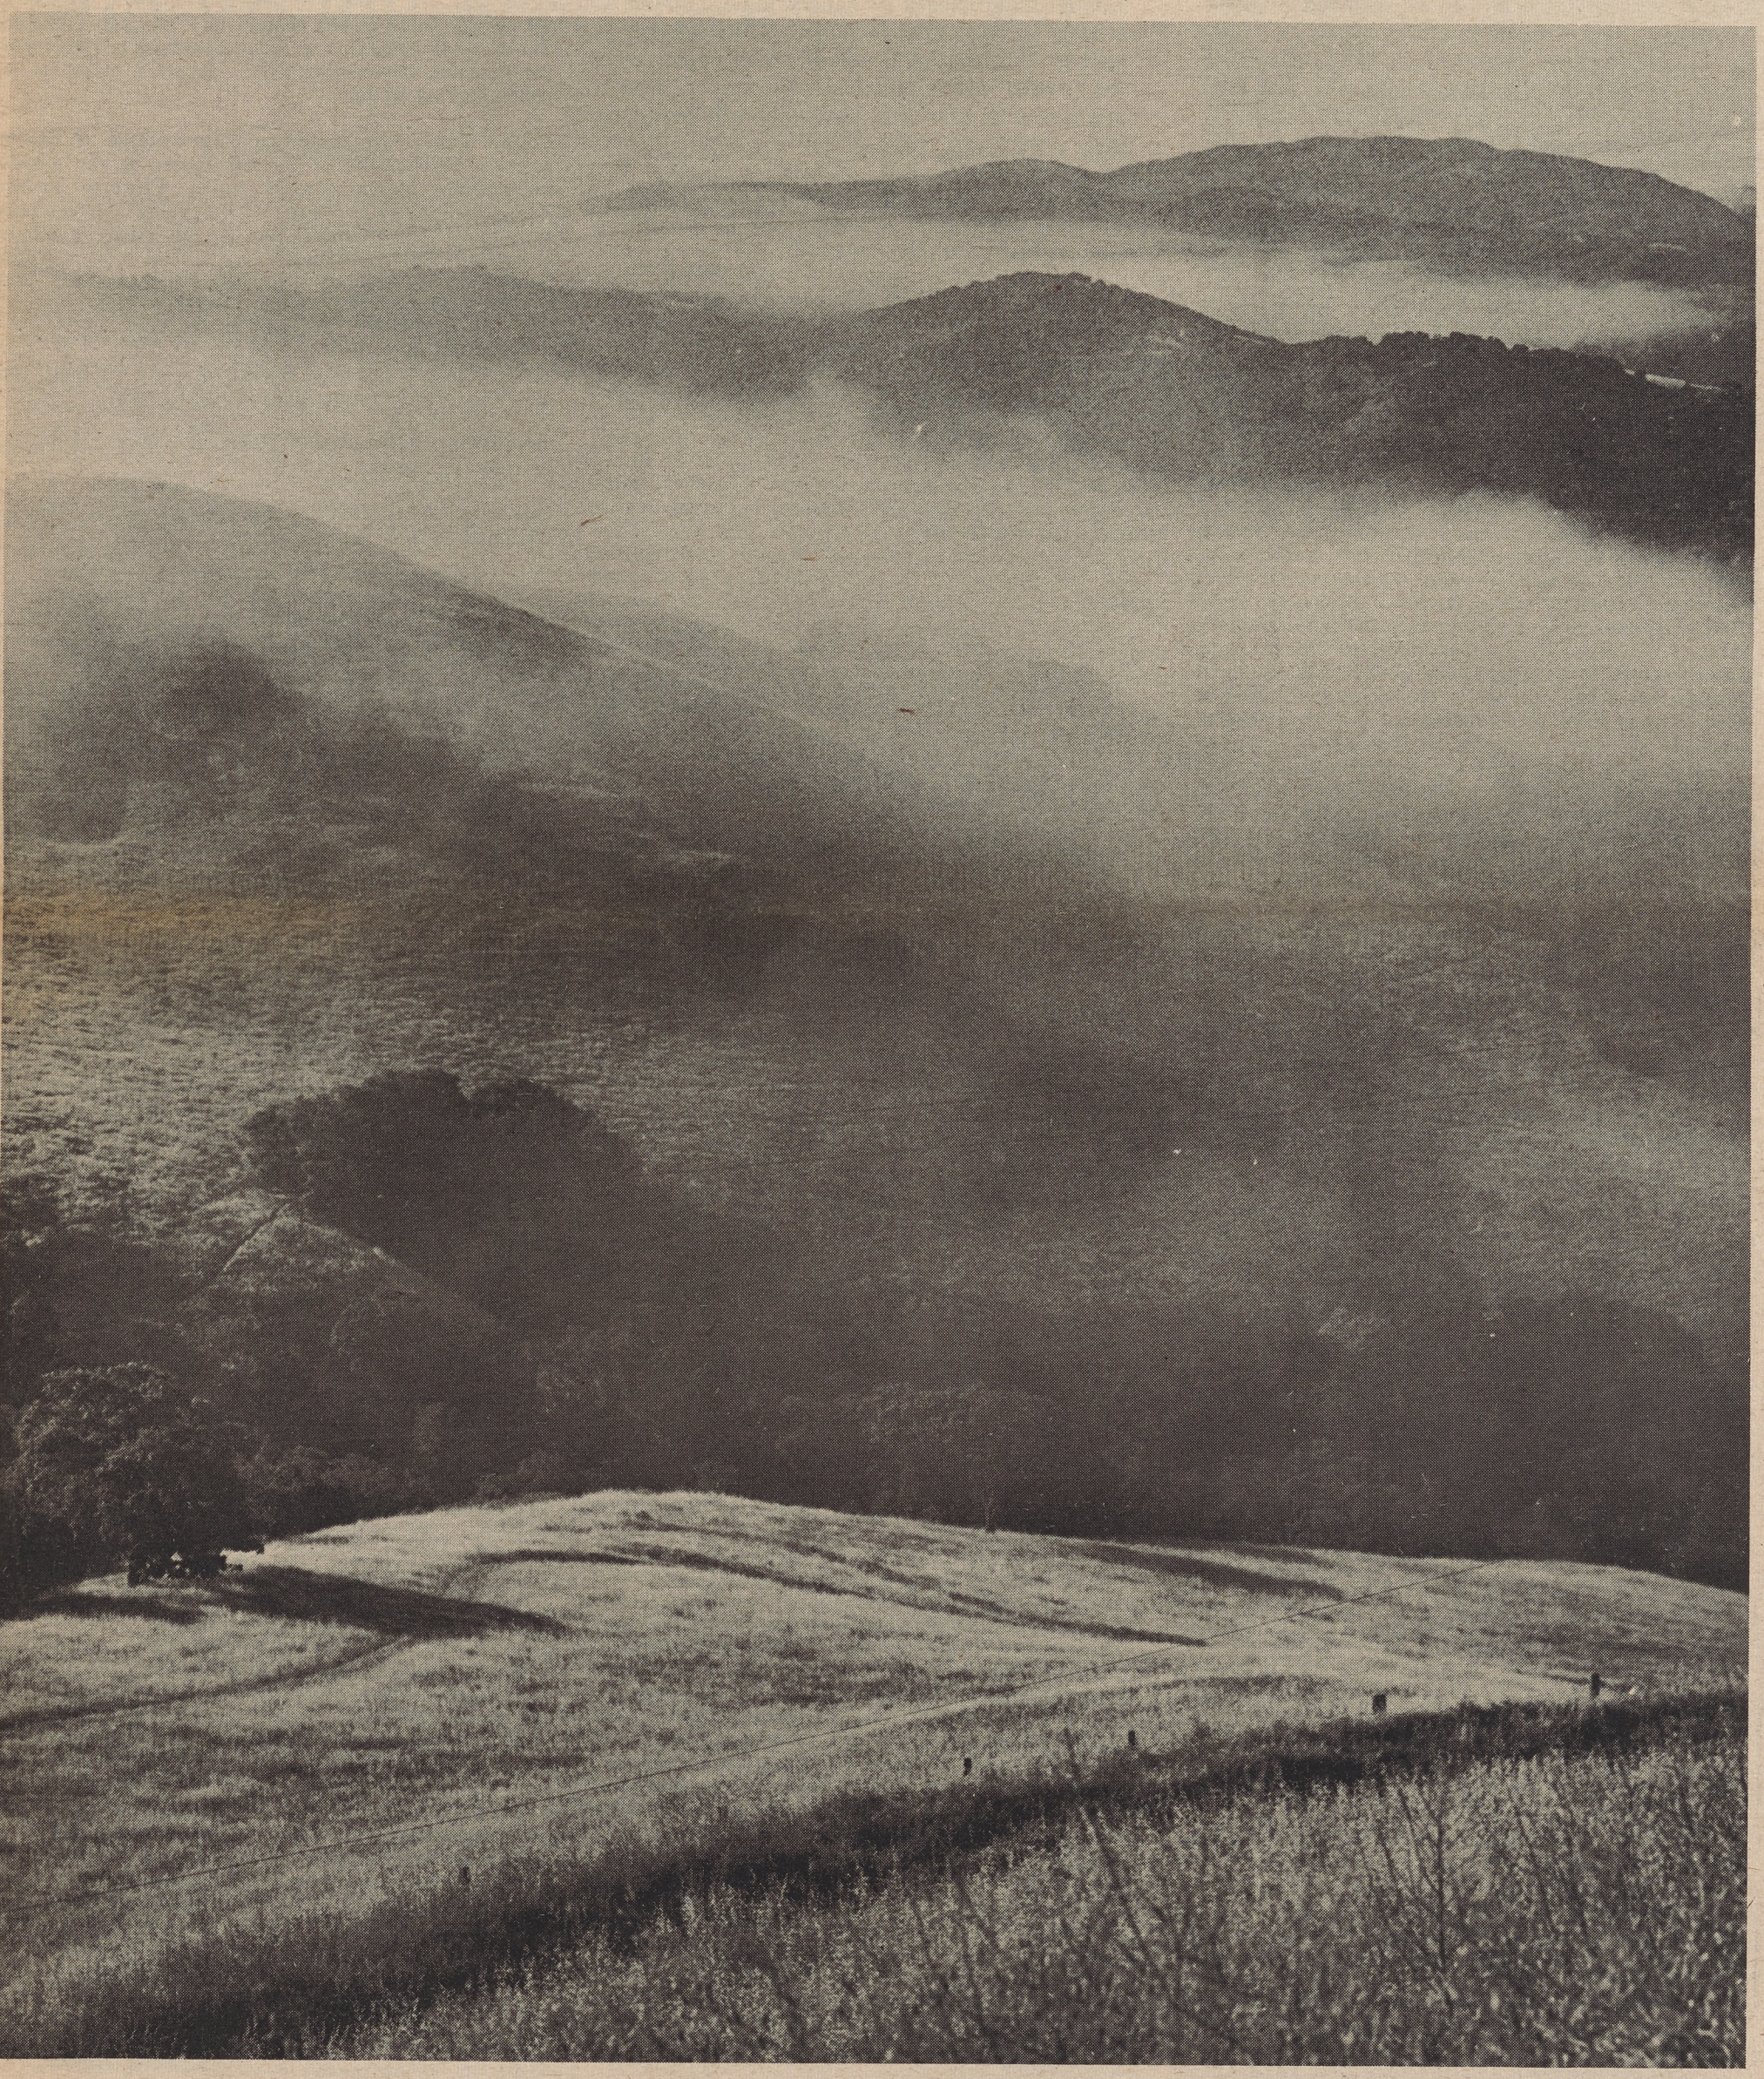
Carmel Valley Outlook

VOL. X, NO. 26 | Two Sections - 32 Pages | CARMEL VALLEY, CALIF. | Price 15c | June 30, 1971



LIKE A MISTY MIRAGE, the hilltops of Carmel Valley and the Los Padres mountains float like disembodied islands while the Valley floor is hidden beneath a woolly bank of fog. George T.C. Smith took this picture at the top of El Camminito as dawn was breaking in the east.

New publication date for Outlook next week

Commencing next week, the Carmel Valley Outlook will be printed on Thursdays instead of Tuesdays.

Subscribers will receive their papers one or two days later in the week than at present.

The change was made for several reasons.

The main reason is to give Carmel Valley residents better and later coverage of local news. Most of the main news events which concern the Valley occur on Tuesdays and Wednesdays -- too late to be included in that week's issue of the newspapers.

These include meetings of the Board of Supervisors, the Planning Commission and the School Board.

All of these and other events occuring during the first half of the week will now be covered in the Outlook the same week.

The other reason relates to production schedules at the Outlook plant. With many more holidays now set for Mondays, it will free the Outlook staff from having to put the paper together on an abbreviated schedule.

Those wishing to place ads will also have an extra day -- the deadline will be Wednesday noon instead of Tuesday noon as at present. The deadline for late news will be Wednesday afternoon instead of Tuesday noon.

Under the new schedule, which is effective with the issue dated Thursday, July 1, it is planned that copies of the paper will be available on local news stands on Thursday afternoon as well as all subscribers receiving their papers at the Carmel Valley postoffice. Subscribers who are served by carrier in the Valley will receive their papers on Friday.

The cooperation of all subscribers in accepting the new publication schedule will be greatly appreciated.

Schedule of Carmel Valley hearings

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

At the last Carmel School Board meeting, it was finally admitted that "Revolutionary Change" or "Minority Culture" could be and were substituted for U.S. History. The Social Studies representative claimed that these two courses covered a student's "history of his own country". Since I have seen materials, talked to students, and observed in class, I can only say any similiarity to "Revolutionary Change" and U.S. History is purely accidental. In my humble opinion, based upon studies of Pavlovian methods, I say these classes have been nothing but sensitivity training sessions.

The fact that these classes were substituted for credit without the Board's approval or knowledge is typical of the deceitful tactics used by the administration to promote programs the Board might object to. In doing this, students are denied the important knowledge of our great and unique heritage -- all in the name of social change and progressive education.

The Board did exactly nothing about this flagrant violation if its powers. It remains to be seen what action the Board will take, if any, when the two new members are seated at the next meeting.

Sincerely Concerned,

P.S. If you want to know more about revolutionary changes, read an eyewitness account, TEACHERS OF DESTRUCTION, by Alice Widener.

To the Editor:

Nobody has taken the trouble to explain to the property owners of the Lower Carmel Valley the difference between a "Fire Protection District" and a "County Service Area."

A Fire District is an independent taxing body with a paid board of directors who have taxing powers and can float bond issues. They can purchase new equipment, whether absolutely necessary or not and the taxpayer has to like it whether he agrees with it or not. There is very little supervision over these people, so they are practically a law unto themselves.

A County Service Area is a piece of land with described boundaries set up by the County for the purpose of Fire Protection, Police Protection, drainage, and-or any other services that the people within the area desire and deem necessary. This service area is administered by the County Service Area Administration with the help of an advisory committee composed of residents who are within the area and preferably own property with the area. This committee is only advisory in its capacity and appointed by the County. These committee members are not paid. It is far less expensive to set up and maintain a service area than a district. The fire protection service can be contracted out to the state and they supply the full time crew, maintenance of equipment, dispatching and clerical work.

The majority of the people have decided that a volunteer department would not work in the Lower Valley. There is no place we can find sufficient volunteers to man a fire station.

Any predictions made now as to the tax rate are irresponsible and premature. First the boundaries have to be established. Next the assessor has to determine the assessed value of the property within those boundaries. The cost of the equipment and firemen's wages has to be determined. Until these things are known, it is wild guesswork to talk about the tax rate.

A mass meeting now is a waste of time. Until we have some hard facts and figures to present, there is little use for a meeting.

The vast majority of the people in the Lower Carmel Valley have gone on record in favor of a County Service Area. This will give you the best fire protection for the least amount of money. It is the only sensible proposal that has been presented. Residents of this area are warned against signing any petition that even mentions the word "District". Of the five proposals that have been discussed, the County Service Area is the only way to go.

To the Editor;

A very special thanks to the warm, willing workers who represent the true spirit of love that lives in Carmel Valley.

The time has begun for those who cared to go to Mount Hermon - a fantastic camp in the Santa Cruz Mountains - to go. To my knowledge all children who wanted to go including those needing financial help are able and going.

In behalf of these young adults, I thank the Kiwanis Club, members under the leadership of Pres. Charles Strathmeyer, for their interest in our youth when they supported our cause.

A very special thanks to all the ladies of the Chapel Guild under leadership of Pres. Irma Bolgard for their most generous donation to the future character of Carmel Valley Youth.

Although food expenses have risen, the Mother's Day Breakfast that was held earned more than in any previous year due to the fact that love is stronger in depth and population. We thank the unsung workers in the kitchen & dining room on that Mother's Day.

We thank Troy's Gift Shop (in the Valley P.O. Building) for accepting centerpieces for sale on consignment. These are cloth potted flowers of pink and purple.

It wasn't co-operation - no, it was more than that.

It wasn't consideration - no, it was more than that.

It was love in its purest form. Through the love of our God and for our fellowman and children, Father Keating of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church and many of his parishoners joined us after and between masses at the Protestant Chapel for breakfast.

The souls of small individuals such as I, grow with humility and appreciation at the community spirit shown by this kind of sharing.

Thank you,

Dear Editor,

I'm fourteen. Yesterday I attended my first Supervisors meeting. It seems ridiculous, those men had their minds made up before anything was said for instance.

This couple wanted to build a store in Prunedale off the highway. At this time there's one grocery store about 2 miles from their property. There are about 25 homes on the road where they wanted their store. One argument said it would be a traffic hazard which to me it would prevent accidents because instead of having to drive 2 miles you would drive ½ mile or less. The couple said this was the reason they bought the property and at that time they were told they could use the property for a grocery store.

Also Dr. Noto wanted to put in a mobile home park in Carmel Valley. This also was denied. They said it would become an eyesore.

This mobile home park just wouldn't help him but it could help the community. This was going to be an adult park with very luxurious mobile homes. Another problem they said was another so called traffic hazard it would put more cars on a road where there is a one lane bridge. But I don't believe they would let him or anyone else put a mobile home park in Carmel Valley.

This really shocked me to find out how this so called trial was run. I hope our government is doing a better job than the Monterey county. Or I pity my generation.

Sincerely Yours,
BARBARA OLSON

Quake laws aren't shaking up Carmel

The current furor over throughout the state over schools which do not meet earthquake standards is not causing even a mild tremor in Carmel.

"We're not having that problem. Our buildings meet all requirements for structural safety," Superintendent of Schools Harris Taylor said last week.

According to State law, Taylor said, all schools built before 1932 are required to have thorough engineering checks. Where defects are found, the local school board is held personally liable until repairs are completed.

Only one building now used by the Carmel Unified School District -- the old Bay School on Highway 1 -- was built prior to 1932. A small section of the building is in need of structural improvements, and parents associated with the "Little Red Schoolhouse" are raising funds to repair and preserve the building as a historical landmark. This is expected to be completed by 1973.

Taylor said that whenever walls have been moved or cut into at any school, engineers make on-the-spot checks to be sure that there has been no weakening of the building.

He noted that one reason the school district was willing to part with the old Sunset School, now Sunset Center, is that the rambling building needed major repairs to bring it up to code requirements.

"Of course," Taylor said, "if we do ever have an earthquake in this area, we will have all the schools checked afterwards for possible weakening or structural damage."

Decision on fire protection for Mid-Valley area likely in July

BY PAT GRIFFITH

July is going to be Fire Month for Carmel Valley.

This is not a flat prognosis of impending disaster, although the hot, dry summer months always worry fire fighters in this area.

This July promises to be Fire Month for another reason. The actions taken -- or not taken -- by residents of mid-Valley during the next few weeks will determine whether or not their homes will be covered by ANY form of fire protection starting July a year from now.

Three public meetings of critical importance to every homeowner and businessman in Carmel Valley are scheduled for July 8, 9 and 19 (see box).

These meetings are not duplications, but have been planned to build a logical progression of information which will lead, it is hoped, to a general consensus and community action on July 19.

At the present time, a citizen's group known as the Mid-Valley Committee for the Development of Area Fire Protection is circulating fact sheets throughout mid-Valley stating the present situation and what needs to be done.

Here is a summary of that fact sheet. The Outlook hopes all readers will study it thoughtfully, and then plan to attend the three vital fire meetings coming up in July.

THE AREA CONCERNED

The section of Carmel Valley facing a critical fire protection problem is roughly referred to as mid-Valley. More specifically, it extends from the eastern edge of Del Mesa Carmel-Descanso Oaks-Hacienda Carmel easterward past Scarlett Road, to the western boundary of the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District at Rancho Fiesta Dr.

THE PROBLEM

A new State law prohibits any county from using general tax funds to pay for fire protection for any area or political subdivision as of July 1, 1971.

The reason for this is obvious. Such use of funds results in double taxation for those taxpayers who live within a fire district or service area or municipality.

The mid-Valley, as described above, is now protected by the State Division of Forestry station at Carmel Hill under a contract paid for out of general county tax funds. As of tomorrow, this procedure becomes illegal.

However, in order to give this section of Carmel Valley and other similarly affected areas of the county time to provide for their own protection, the Board of Supervisors has agreed to use certain special tax funds to provide this coverage for one more year – until July 1, 1972.

That will be it as far as county financial help is concerned. No one other than the residents of mid-Valley will pay for their fire protection after July 1, 1972.

THE TIME ELEMENT

This one-year lead time quickly evaporates when these facts are considered:

It generally takes 18 months to acquire a new fire engine, since every engine is custom-built to certain specifications.

The earliest that taxes could be collected for a mid-Valley fire district or service area is January 1, 1972.

For that to happen, the fire district or service area must be certified by the Secretary of State in Sacramento by Dec. 31 of this year.

Backing up still further on the calendar, that means that voters would have to approve the formation of the district or service area in a general election (November).

The issue can't be put on the ballot until it is approved by the Board of Supervisors, who in turn must hold a public hearing before they take any action. This would have to take place in September in order to qualify the measure for the ballot.

Finally, for the supervisors to have something on which to base a hearing, they'll need to have a specific proposal set before them by the end of August.

Thus the calendar is backed up to July, and the three meetings that should culminate in a definite proposal.

IS THIS A CVPOA PLOT?

No, for the reasons stated above.

As a public service, the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association set up a committee of mid-Valley residents to explore various possibilities for fire protection and report back to the CVPOA board.

This CVPOA committee has done so, and has been dissolved. To show its general support for mid-Valley residents in their quest for fire protection, the CVPOA board donated $50 for the publication of a fact sheet.

The CVPOA is also sponsoring the first of the three fire meetings, on July 8. This meeting will focus on problems of fire protection and fire insurance for all of Carmel Valley, not just mid-Valley.

WHAT IS REQUIRED

The Pacific Fire Rating Bureau in San Francisco sets the standards for fire protection which, in turn, establish the fire insurance rates applied to an individual home or business.

To meet minimum standards, the Bureau will require a minimum of four trained men on duty at all times, one of whom must be a certified contract engineer.

The cost of providing this basic round-the-clock service is estimated at $95,000 per year for firemen. This does not include the salaries of a dispatcher or other administrative costs.

A first class structural fire fighting pumper truck, powerful enough to get up the Tierra Grande hill, will cost from $35,000 to $40,000. This cost may be financed over a five-year period under State law.

A fire station will be required. An effort is now underway to see if a two-acre site across from Carmelo School can be leased from the Carmel School District. So far no one has come up with an estimate on the cost of building a fire house with sleeping space for at least four men.

WHAT HAS BEEN RULED OUT

Last summer there was an unsuccessful attempt to annex this mid-Valley area to the Carmel Valley Fire Protection District, based in the Village.

At this time, the Village fire district does not want to annex any more territory.

The same is true of Service Area 43, which includes Del Mesa Carmel, Hacienda Carmel and the area to the west including the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

Mid-Valley residents working on this problem recently have discussed and generally rejected another possibility. That would be to form a Mid-Valley Fire District, with an elected board of directors.

This possibility may still be considered in future public meetings. But so far, it has been rejected on the grounds that it would likely encounter strong opposition from property owners, because directors of a fire district can vote an increase in tax rates without first going to the public.

THIS BIG EYE scans the heavens to pick up messages from orbiting satellites at the Communication Satellite Corp. (COMSAT) station in Cachagua Valley. COMSAT offers guided tours for the public on Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. The donkey in the foreground isn't part of the international communications network, but he has certain status nonetheless. His owner is famed western artist Jack Swanson, whose ranch adjoins the COMSAT property.

WHAT MAY BE CONSIDERED

Therefore, attention has focused more and more on the possibility of forming a County Service Area to provide fire protection for the mid-Valley.

A County Service Area would be under the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors, and public hearings would be required for any increase in the established tax rate.

A new service area could, like Service Area 43, make its own contract with the State Division of Forestry for personnel. This could result in some savings, as the service area would pay only a pro rata share of the cost of a dispatcher, mechanic and clerical help.

It has also been suggested that the County might establish a single service area as an umbrella over all areas that need to provide new fire protection. This, too, would have some advantages in terms of shared costs.

WHAT ABOUT INSURANCE

The Pacific Fire Rating Bureau has already adjusted upwards the fire insurance on property in the mid-Valley. Before, many homes enjoyed a Class 7 rating even though they were not within 5 miles of a fire department and 1000 feet of a hydrant.

No longer. Most homes have been, or shortly will be, jumped to a Class 10 rating, the highest the Bureau has established. In some cases this has meant an increase of 200 percent in the cost of insurance.

As an example, one $40,000 house has had a premium increase from $110 to $330 in an area with fire hydrants.

Establishment of a fire house within five miles will not necessarily mean a reduction in insurance rates for everyone. Rates would drop for homes that are within 1000 feet of hydrants.

Rates would not be affected very much in areas that are without hydrants. However, one of the purposes of the fire service area would be to install hydrants in areas that don't have them now, with the cost coming from taxes.

For some homeowners, the tax cost imposed by a fire service area would be offset by the resulting drop in insurance rates. For others, this would not be true, at least right away.

However, without a fire district of some sort, those homeowners will either be paying top insurance rates for no protection whatsoever -- or be without insurance or protection.

WHAT OTHERS PAY

Tax rates now in effect in nearby fire protection districts are: Carmel Highlands, $1.14; Seaside, $.993; Marina (new rate, $1.00; Carmel Valley Fire Protection District, $.70.

OTHER QUESTIONS

The three meetings in July will attempt to answer a host of other questions not discussed here, or mentioned only briefly.

No individual, group or government body is trying to force any one particular solution on the mid-Valley. Certain definite facts have been ascertained; various possibilities are now open for discussion.

July 8, 9 and 19 are when this public discussion will take place. If you care at all -- be there.

Three important meetings on fire protection

The following meetings in July will discuss fire protection for Carmel Valley, with major emphasis on the need to establish a fire station to cover the mid-Valley.

Different information will be presented at each meeting. Taken together, these three meetings will come as close as is possible in this unincorporated area to having a community "town hall" discussion on a problem of critical importance to all residents of Carmel Valley.

Residents of the mid-Valley, in particular, should attend all three meetings.

Thursday, July 8 -- 7:30 p.m., Carmel Valley Manor. General membership meeting of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, with a panel discussion on fire insurance and fire protection affecting ALL of Carmel Valley. Focus on what Carmel Valley residents can expcet in the future in terms of increase or decrease in fire insurance rates.

Friday, July 9 -- 7:30 p.m., Carmelo School. Public hearing on fire protection for mid-Carmel Valley. This meeting is being arranged by Supervisor Willard Branson, and County officials and representatives from neighboring fire districts will be present.

Monday, July 19 -- 8 p.m., Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. The Ad Hoc Committee for Fire Protection for Mid-Valley is sponsoring this meeting. Specific alternatives for fire protection for mid-Valley will be presented, with their probable costs and tax rates. Purpose is to settle on one plan and start the legal petition process necessary to get a firm proposal to the board of Supervisors.

"A SIDE OF WHOSE beef will be cut and wrapped for the freezer"...is the question Tina (a prize Hereford belonging to the Ben Dahle family on Meadows Road) seems to be asking—with fear and trepidation! The photo is, of course, a gag to promote the sale of tickets for the side of beef to be given as a door prize at the Carmel Valley Little League Fourth of July Barbecue. Tina, a ham to the end...graciously agreed to pose with Jim Clark, Carmel Valley Little League president, his wife, Pam, who is chairman of the door prize ticket sales, and her assistant, Danielle Clark. Tickets—50c each or three for $1.00 may be purchased from any Little League Parent or at Cornoa's Meat Market. The winner will be contacted if unable to attend the July 4th event.

IN A PATIO SETTING of flowers and ferns, wedding vows were exchanged by Mrs. Ariail Kinard Goessling of Monterey and William Carrol Haskins of Moraga. The ceremony was read by Rev. Walter Grumm at the Country Club Drive home of the bride's parents, Col. (USA Ret.) and Mrs. William H. Kinard. The bridegroom is the son of Carroll Haskins and the late Mrs. Haskins.

With her floor length gown of lavendar and white printed voile, Ariail carried a matching parasol; wore the traditional blue garter; and borrowed earrings which are family keepsakes. The bridal bouquet was a white cascade arrangement of stephanotis, orchids, carnations and baby's breath.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Chalres M. Vout of Carmel and Eugeno L. Lencioni of Menlo Park. Theresa Goessling, daughter of the bride served as a junior attendant. Her gown was green with leg o' mutton sleeves and she held her mother's parasol during the ceremony. The bride attended Norfolk Virginia Business College and is a former secretary at Tensor Corp. in Monterey. The bridegroom attended the University of the Pacific in Stockton and is district service manager of the Oldsmobile division of General Motors.

Relatives and close friends who attended the wedding and garden reception which followed included the following out of town guests: the groom's daughters, Jill and Polly of Walnut Creek; his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Horton of Concord; his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Timothy C. Haskins of San Leandro and his sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald P. Uhr of Petaluma.

Relatives of the bride were Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Whitesides, Stockton; Mr. and Mrs. E.G. Whitesides, Vallejo; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitesides, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shanks, Foster City; and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Miles of Solvang.

Yosemite was the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Haskins who are making their home in Moraga.

TWELVE KINDERGARTEN CHILDREN with a perfect attendance captured the "Flying Saucer" attendance award for their class at the 13th annual Bible School presented for all children of the area at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel. Nearly 100 family members and friends attended the program which marked the final day of the two-week session; viewed the craft projects made by the children and enjoyed the social hour which followed. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Don Johnson, director of the summer project, assisted by four teachers and fifteen helpers who were in charge of Friday's production.

The Pre-School group dramatized Noah's Ark - complete with Glen Low as Noah; numerous pairs of animals identified by their paper bag masks; Heidi Nicholson as the white dove who brought the leaf signifying the end of the rains; and a SMASHING rainbow!

The Kindergarten children demonstrated for the audience a review of what they had learned with visual aid pictures. The first and second graders selected the person whom they had found most interesting in their study of the Psalms and gave a thumbnail sketch of that Bible character.

Offerings for the two weeks of classes totaled $150.08 with $65.45 more contributed toward their Missionary "Mustard Seed Project."

Children enrolled included—

Preschool: Heidi Nicholson, Mike Cloyd, Anne Sackman, Mark Fogelmanis, Susie Verde, Stacie Haller, Tanya Radowicz, Pascale Vandenbrouche, Chris Lee, Kirk Rasmussen, Curt Graham, Bret Rozelle, Steven Radowicz.

KINDERGARTEN—Greg Bennett, Ronald Scholink, Rani Kelly, Sandra Lee, Kenny Ruse, Thor Rasmussen, Erick Doelman, Kathy Hancock, Kimme Wolf, Corianne King and Kathy Wolf.

FIRST AND SECOND GRADES—Susan Bennett, Ray Cloyd, Bret Graham, David Sackman, Brooks Garner, Mel Reese, Todd Halley, Wendy Hancock, Brenna Rozelle, Carl Fosso, Claire Louise Arnal, Doug Clasco, J.F. Blatnik, Kelly Blatnik.

THIRD AND FOURTH GRADES—Mike Denny, Peter Kellt, Ralph Verde, Laurie McGlochlin, Carl Bresk, Jon Fogelmanis, David Fogelmanis, Fawn Nicholson, Pam Gayman, Laura Bennett, Roy Kaminske, Vanessa Rammel, Kevin Taguchi, Sara Conklin, Zane Gregory, Steve Draper, Danny Bussinger, Pam Oross.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADES— Julie Taguchi, Vicki Harber, Linda McGlochlin, Mary Kaminski, Chris Kelly, Chris Denny, Debbie Nielsen, Debbie Lorenz, Lisa Conklin, Jeff Johnson, Rory Low, Gay Halley, Veronique Vanderbrouche, Stevel Rammei, Frank DeAmaral, Bobbie Rammel, Chris Hopkin, Lori Davis, Leslie Bussinger, Ron Gayman.

THE "PHANTOM OAK MOTH" received a tip on the Powder Puff Derby Air Race which contradicts the theme, "You've Come a Long Way, Baby" of this 25th Jubilee all-woman transcontinental competition and which we feel should be passed along to Carmel Valley's representative, Connie Hood. Connie...do you know that Fran Salles of Baton Rouge is flying a MONKEY as her co-pilot!

The starting date of the race is July 5 in Calgary, Alberta, Canada (Connie and Trish Marks of Salinas who are sponsored by Fat City Cattle Company flew north last weekend accompanied by Dell Hinn of Salinas who is on the 1971 inspection team). The race route covers a distance of 2,442.44 statute miles between the Canadian start and the Baton Rouge, La. finish on July 8. Stops include Great Falls or Billings, Mont.; Rapid City, S.D., Denver, Colo.; Little Rock, Kan.; and last of all Baton Rouge. Other county residents include Joanne Nissen Aiello of Hollister and Helen Shropshire of Monterey. Among their competition is Trudy Cooper, wife of U.S. astronaut Gordon Cooper.

OVER THE MOUNTAIN excitement mounts as the date of the Salinas Rodeo draws closer. Preliminary interest in the Old West event was sparked by the Hartnell College Rodeo Team which returned from competition in the Western Regional finals at the Fresno State College with a third place and then moved into second place with points earned at the intercollegiate rodeo at Northern Arizona University in Flagstaff. Valley Rodeo fans will have either seen in action of heard of a notorious Brahman Bull by the name of "Togo"...mean, ornery and unrideable in any arena.

Just to prove how really good these young people representing Hartnell are—Guy Barth not only stayed on Togo for the full ten seconds, but was the first cowboy out of 40 to ride for the limit in two years. This qualified Guy for the first place bull rider in the West Coast Intercollegiate division and entered him in the June 25th national finals at Boseman, Mont. Keep an eye on that Hartnell team...they are still in the running for the national!

LITTLE LEAGUE BARBECUE—There is action like this to be found on July 4th with Jim Ryan (left) and Rick Palmer, if you join the families who plan to spend an old-fashioned Fourth of July right here in Carmel Valley at the Little League Field on Paso Hondo! Festivities get under way at 12:00 when the All-Stars Team meets the coaches and managers...for the only baseball game of its kind in the world! The steak barbecue will be served from 1-7 p.m. ($3.00 donation per adult and a hot dog plate for children for 75c). Don Corona, chairman, requests that you bring your own silverware. A beautiful wedding at the Community Chapel

A wedding of unusual community warmth and family significance took place in Carmel Valley when Steven Johnson and Stephanie Ann Ricker were married in the Community Chapel.

The groom's father, the Rev. Don Johnson, performed the ceremony, and the reception which followed in the parish hall was prepared and served by the women of the Chapel Guild as a gift to the newlyweds.

"Steve," as the groom is known, grew up in Carmel Valley and graduated from Carmel High School in 1964, when he received the "Most Valuable Athlete" award.

He received a scholarship to Occidental College, where he majored in pre-med, and is now in his fourth year of medical school at the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco. He was recently elected to the Honorary Medical Society.

His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sellars of Duncannon, Pa. She has attended Pasadena College and San Francisco City College, and is currently attending San Francisco State College while working as a placement counselor for an employment agency in San Francisco.

For her wedding she was attended by Susan Cassaway of San Francisco, who wore an ankle length old-fashioned blue dress similar in design to the bride's.

Marc Johnson was best man for his brother, and 11-year-old Jeff Johnson carried the rings on the blue Bible received at his baptism.

The ushers were Allan Nishimura, the son of Col. and Mrs. Bert Nishimura, of South Carmel Hills; Bob Holmes, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes of Rancho Fiesta Road; and John Broberg, a cousin of the groom's from Northridge, Calif.

The organist for the wedding was Seung Paik Park of Monterey, former organist at the Chapel, who is an instructor in Korean at the Defense Language School in Monterey.

Following the reception, the bride and groom gave a wedding dinner for their families, the wedding party and out of town friends at the Fireside Room of the La Playa Hotel.

The couple is now living in San Francisco. A wedding trip has been delayed until fall, because the groom had to return the Monday after the wedding to continue his medical studies.

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN GRANT JOHNSON were married in the Carmel Valley Community Chapel this month in a ceremony presided over by the groom's father, The Rev. Don Johnson. For her wedding dress, the former Stephanie Ann Ricker chose an old-fashioned design of white cotton lace, with a high neck and long, puffed sleeves.

Win an interest-free loan.

Or cash prize.

During UCB's Interest-Free Loan Sweepstakes.

To be eligible, all you have to do is fill out an entry blank at any one of our 235 offices. It's that simple — no purchase required. If you apply for a personal loan for any amount up to $10,000 and it's approved, you may win that loan interest-free. Or, if you really don't need a loan right now, you may win a cash prize equivalent to the interest on an average UCB Personal Loan with a two-year maturity. And, since there'll be one winner for every 50 personal loans approved for 3 months, there's no limit on how many people can win.

Of course, you're probably saying to yourself, "How can I apply for a loan now? With money so tight, I'd do better to wait for the economy to pick up." Well, we'd like to point out that, strange as it probably seems, just the opposite is true. Interest rates are now lower than they've been in years. While prices continue to rise. Which means that, if you borrow now, you'll actually save money in the long run.

So if you've been waiting to apply for a loan, you'd be wise not to wait any longer. Come in and talk to us today. No matter what you're in the market for — a new car, a boat, you name it — you'll find we've got a loan to suit your needs. Everything from a vacation loan that lets you wait 3 months to start repaying to a property improvement loan that finances 100% of your expense and lets you take up to 10 years to repay.

In fact, now that you know all the facts, there really is no time like the present to borrow, is there? Because even if you don't win our sweepstakes, you don't lose.

CV LITTLE LEAGUE MAJOR TEAM STANDINGS

The Tigers, a major team of Carmel Valley Little League, sponsored by Rancho Canada Golf Club, moved into first place following a 9-4 vistory over the Volunteers at the Valley field on Saturday. This gives the Tigers, coached and managed by Bill Conlan and Roger Sherman, a record of six wins and two losses.

The Lions toppled to the Indians 7-4 in Saturday's contest which places the Indians second in the League with five wins and three losses.

The Lions are in third place with four wins and four losses and the Volunteers trail with one win and seven losses.

Play continues through July 3 with Farm Team games Monday, Wednesday and Saturday and Major Teams meeting on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The weekday games begin at 5:30 and the Saturday play starts at 8:00 a.m. Everyone is welcome to attend the games—admission FREE!

Carmel Valley Little League Farm Teams

A NEW TEAM NAME and a new sponsor - the ONLY individual sponsorhip in the League - is BRANSON'S WOLF PACK sponsored by County Supervisor Willard Branson. Coach and manager, (left to right), Mel Stauffer and Larry Cisneros make the award. The boys with the red banner now have a record of no wins and six losses.

THE "MIGHTY HORNETS" - won the first half of the Farm team series and now lead the second half with 7 wins and NO losses. Accepting for a new sponsor this year - Bank of America (Mid-Valley and Village Branches) - is Mrs. Linda Sherman. The team is B of A ALL the way with coach and manager, David Redman and Dean Brown, Bank of America executives. Making the presentation is Jim Clark, president of CV Little League.

A NEW ORANGE FLAG flies over the field on the days the Farm League's newest team, the COUGARS are scheduled to play. Also boasting a new sponsor, Barney Belleci, of State Farm Insurance located in Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, shown here accepting the plaque from Cougar coach, Andy Nottenkamper while president, Jim Clark, looks on. The Cougars are in second place with 4 wins and 2 losses.

WILL'S FARGO, another long time League sponsor, once again carried the PIRATES for another season. Well known staff member, Clifford Washington, accepts a tribute from the team, the coaches, and managers, (left to right) Warren Kaufman, Bud Platter, and Vic Colton. Score sheets now tally a one win, six loss record for the Pirates.

PORTER MARQUARD REAL ESTATE was unable to send a representative so accepting was CUBS coach, Roger Fulton (far right) who is assisted by Harry Blackburn (left) and Dick Wenzlik (right). League standings presently list the Cubs with four wins and two losses.

THE TOWN CRIER

The Fourth of July will mark the opening of an exhibit of paper sculpture by Eve Tartar in the Green Room Gallery of the Tantamount Theater. The display of her three-dimensional paper constructions will open with a reception from 4 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Eve Tartar, the wife of Harper Brown, has had several one-man shows across the country, including the Crocker Museum in Sacramento and the Underland, Sosenko and Rose Fried galleries in New York. Her sculpture is in permanent collections of the National Arts Foundation Museum in Illinois; Young and Rubicam, San Francisco; R.I.E. Foundation, Santa Barbara; de Saisset Museum, Santa Clara; and the Telegeneral Corporation, New York.

Ed Haber was granted a use permit last week to board horses and sell feed on his property on Carmel Valley Road, just east of Laureles Grade. Zoning Administrator Robert Slimmon approved the use permit for a period of five years, after the Upper Valley Advisory Committee recommended approval.

High fire areas of the Los Padres National Forest will be closed to the public starting tomorrow, according to Acting Forest Supervisor Clemence C. Crouch. They will remain closed until fall rains materially reduce the fire danger.

Certain portions of the closed areas may be entered under the Restricted Area permit system. Permits will be available at Forest Service stations in the area.

Los Padres Forest has had 22 man-caused fires since January 1, and all visitors are urged to use extreme caution when entering any portion of the forest.

Monterey Peninsula College has announced the spring Dean's Lost. Those with a straight A. grade point average include Andrew J. Craig, James M. Frincke, Christina F. Halle, Janice M. Kinion, Penelope Nesbitt, Christopher W. Snow, George N. Souza, jr. and Sharon Stuart of Carmel.

Earning high honors for grade point averages from 3.5 to 3.99 were: Thomas Augustitus, Ann C. Houston, Helen V. Randolph, Paul G. Salinger, Nancy J. Stekly, and Gregory K. Wilson of Carmel Valley.

News of graduates continues to pour in from all points on the map. Among the 650 graduates from the University of California at Santa Cruz were Christine Ann Beckstrom of Carmel Valley, with a B.A. in music, and Marjorie May Helm and James Henry Lang, jr. of Carmel. Miss Helm received a degree in psychology and Lang in anthropology.

Mrs. Beatrice Neall, the daughter of Mrs. James Short of Robles del Rio, was graduated from Andrews University in Michigan with a master of arts degree in education.

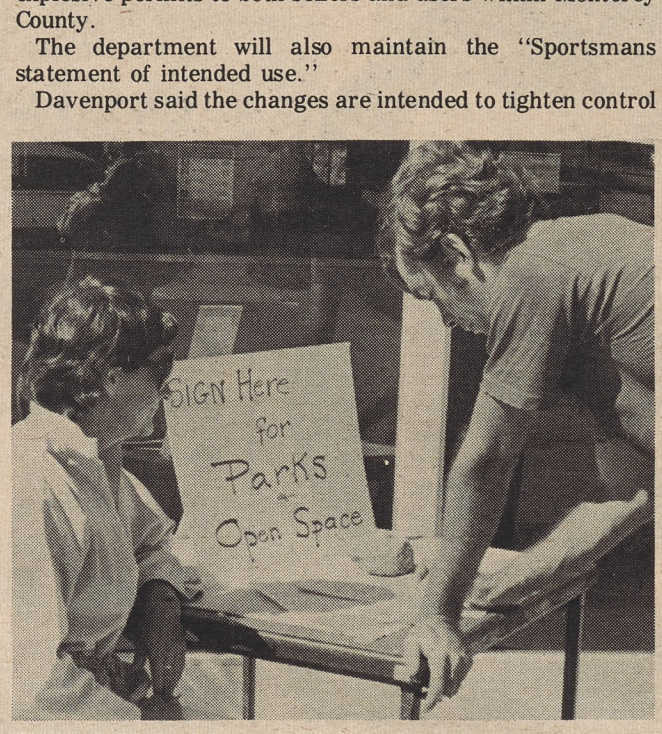
Sheriff Willaim A. Davenport announced last week that the Sheriff's Department in Salinas will control the issuance of explosive permits to both sellers and users within Monterey County.

The department will also maintain the "Sportsmans statement of intended use."

Davenport said the changes are intended to tighten control of explosive permits, and to make it more difficult for those without a legitimate need to obtain explosives.

The major exception to the permit requirement involves sportsmen, who sign a statement of intended use when purchasing smokeless or black powder. In this case, the amount of smokeless powder is limited to 20 pounds of less, and black powder to one pound or less.



THE RESULTS OF AN INTENSIVE three-day campaign to collect at least 5,000 valid signatures of registered voters on a petition for a Monterey Peninsula Regional Park and Open Space District were being tallied yesterday. Scores of Carmel Valley residents signed the petitions at a table outside the post office in the Village, which was manned by a team of volunteer workers, including Betty O'Neal, above. Steve Park is signing the petition, which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors in the near future. If, following a public hearing, the supervisors approve formation of an Open Space District, the measure will be put on the ballot in November. The proposed district would coincide with the boundaries of the Monterey Peninsula College District, and would be empowered to levy a 10 cen tax, which would raise about $270,000 a year for the purchase of land for open space or recreational use. Photo by George T.C. In February, as Outlook readers may remember, the Outlook was awarded first prize for general excellence for newspapers in its circulation category by the California Newspaper Publishers Association. Coming in second was the Folsom Telegraph.

Now the results are in for similar awards presented by the National Newspaper Association. This time the Outlook didn't enter. So what paper came out on top for the whole country?

That's right, the Folsom Telegraph!

This is probably the first time that the paper considered the nation's best small weekly is only second best in California.

Maybe next year the Outlook can take care of the national honor, too.

The man with the big smile at the Safeway in the Mid-Valley Shopping Center is Jim Kelsey, who moved into the manager's job last Friday.

Kelsey's promotion meant a shift of about six miles up the Valley from the Carmel Safeway on Highway 1, where he had been assistant manager for the past seven months.

Employed by Safeway for 11 years, primarily on the Monterey Peninsula and in Salinas, Kelsey and his wife, Everileen, hope to move to the Valley from Salinas.

Everileen also works for Safeway. Formerly at the Carmel Center store, she is now in Monterey.

Developer says he is 'reexamining his plans'

'Rugged restrictions' at Valley Ford

BY PAT GRIFFITH

Valley Ford developer Robert Bolman said Friday he is re-examining his plans for a $1 million commercial complex in Carmel Valley Village because of the "rugged restrictions" which have been placed on his proposed development.

Bolman was referring to last week's action by the Board of Supervisors, who approved the general development plan but upheld 11 restrictions placed by the Planning Commission on the zoning permit for the first increment, a 596-seat twin movie theater.

"I am pleased, in the matter of public interest, that the board approved the master plan," Bolman said. "But there are real problems as a result of the many restrictions. We're examining all aspects of these restrictions now, and I don't know just what that will mean."

Bolman is particularly concerned by two provisions, which call for him to deed land 30 feet from centerline along Ford Road and too deed a 10-foot strip along Carmel Valley Road in addition to a 10-foot setback.

At the supervisors' hearing, Bolman's attorney, Myron Etienne, also protested another requirement calling for Bolman to pay for both on-site and off-site drainage studies of his 4.3 acre property.

Road Commissioner Bruce McClain said it is "standard procedure" to require new subdivisions to deed land for future road widening.

In fact, it was pointed out, there is usually an additional requirement that the developer pay for road improvements such as curbs and gutters. This was not attached to Bolman's zoning permit for the theater because there are no other curbs and gutters in the immediate area.

Etienne, however, argued that it is unfair for Bolman to give up 8,000 square feet of property when there are no present plans to widen either Ford Road or Carmel Valley Road.

"What this means," Bolman explained later, "is that I lose two strips of my most valuable land. This means we'll have to rearrange the buildings, with everything on Ford Road back an additional 10 feet and on Carmel Valley Road back 20 feet.

"There's no doubt that those were pretty rugged restrictions."

Bolman said he may appeal the matter in court, based on a 1969 case in which similar restrictions attached to a permit granted the Valley Hills Shopping Center were overruled.

At the Board of Supervisors' hearing, Bolman said he would be willing to have 10 foot setbacks along both roads. A setback means that no structure can be placed on the property, but the land may be used for parking or landscaping, and remains part of the development.

If, at some future date, the County needs the land for a road, then it is purchased at market value. By requiring a developer to deed road frontage, the County obtains the land at no cost.

McClain said it is normal to require developers to deed land where necessary to provide for a 60-foot right of way. Ford Road is now a sub-standard County road, only 40-feet wide.

"The idea of a theater going in on a 40 foot right of way is a step backwards, if width of right of way means anything at all," McClain declared.

McClain also contended that the dedication is needed "to provide additional width for the merging of traffic, pedestrians and sight distance at what will become a busy intersection."

Traffic needs were a major concern of the supervisors, who had a report prepared by McClain which estimated that the theater will attract 220 cars to weekend performances of a popular film. Under another condition attached to the zoning permit for the theater, Bolman will have to provide 149 parking spaces, a ratio of one space for every four seats in the theater.

The overflow from the parking lot will presumably, park along Ford Road, at the Community Center and around Tularcitos School.

McClain based his estimate of 220 cars on weekends on figures submitted by architect Olof Dahlstrand, who said that the theater owner would consider a 25 percent average attendance "very good," but that weekend highs could reach 75 percent of capacity.

McClain's report also noted that in order to operate at an average of 25 percent of capacity, the twin theaters will have to attract 2,380 people every week. According to the 1970 census figures, the entire population of Carmel Valley from Robinson Canyon Road to Tassajara is 3608.

Therefore, McClain concluded, for the theater to have 2,380 patrons, either two out of three people living in the upper Valley will have to attend every week, or else the theater will have to draw from a considerably wider geographic area -- which means more traffic for Carmel Valley Road.

Dahlstrand said that the attendance figures had been meant as a "high average" and that in the beginning the theater would not expect to draw anywhere near that number.

He said the main concern should be about traffic flow through the Village itself, and contended that there would be little or no affect there because a large portion of the theater traffic will come from the west and never enter the Village.

In addition, he said, the theater would expect to attract people on foot "as this will be a neighborhood theater."

At the end of a performance, Dahlstrand said, there will be a heavy concentration of traffic "and we agree the handling of this should be done properly."

UNDAUNTED BY LAST WEEK'S turn-down of his proposed 75 unit mobile home park, Dr. Joseph Noto is moving ahead stone by stone building a permanent fireplace for the living room of his model home on Schulte Road. He'll be facing the Planning Commission again today with a new application, this one for approval of 68 mobile homes on his 16-acre property. Photo by George T.C. Smith

Dr. Joseph Noto will try again for mobile home park

BY PAT GRIFFITH

Dr. Joseph Noto lost a bid to establish a 75-unit mobile home park on Schulte Road last week when the Board of Supervisors upheld an earlier ruling by the Planning Commission denying rezoning of Noto's 16 acres.

By week's end, however, the diminutive dentist had bounced back from this defeat and filed a new application with the Planning Commission to rezone his land from one-acre minimum residential (KGJB4) to "X", which permits mobile homes and recreational vehicles.

The new application requests approval for 68 home sites, a density of slightly over four per acre.

Noto's latest request will come before the Planning Commission today, and is expected to be set for a public hearing on July 28 (the same day, incidentally, when the Odello application returns for another hearing.)

Noto told the Outlook Monday that his new application is justified by "the fantastic turnout of people" who have visited his model mobile home.

His intention, he said, is to get the Planning Commission to come up with "a reasonable density I can live with," and to press for revision of the Carmel Valley Master Plan.

"I am strongly motivated," he said, "because I do want to keep my land and put it to its best and highest use. To subdivide my land into residential lots is asinine, when we have so many hundreds of one-acre lots available in Carmel Valley right now."

Noto said he also hopes to create a general public awareness of "what's going on in Carmel Valley . . . The Carmel Valley Master Plan must be revised to meet the current needs of people. I consider economic discrimination just as serious as racial discrimination."

Noto vowed he is not going to stop pressing for a mobile home park despite what he calls "harassment" and "being hit over the head with the club of the Carmel Valley Master Plan."

He noted that he fought for three years in a losing effort to put a convalescent hospital on the same property, and that the first year of working to establish a mobile home park won't be up until November.

"If I have to go before the Planning Commission five more times, I'll do it," he declared.

Noto said he feels his original application for 75 mobile homes was turned down because of problems with Schulte Road and the one-lane bridge.

"My personal disappointment is that I thought I had reached some sort of understanding with the road department, inasmuch as I expressed a willingness to contribute to part of the cost of a second lane on that bridge."

SUPERVISORS' HEARING

At the Board of Supervisors hearing last week, Noto spoke with an air of mixed desperation and resignation.

"I believe that the time of fighting for what is right is coming to an end . . . This is my last desperation effort to do something I think is right for Carmel Valley."

Noto said his proposed adult community of mobile homes would be serviced by city water, natural gas and a package sewage treatment facility.

"What's wrong," he asked plaintively, "with having a more needed and desirable development?"

At another point, commenting that one-acre lots in Carmel Valley often sell for $15,000 or more, he challenged: "Is Carmel Valley to become a valley of snobs?"

It was all for naught, as the supervisors concurred with the objections raised by the Planning Commission and several others that:

-- The Carmel Valley Master Plan makes no provision for trailer parks.

-- The requested density of 4.7 units per acre would constitute "spot zoning" in the midst of an area generally zoned for one-acre building sites.

-- Schulte Road and the one-lane bridge that has to be crossed before reaching Noto's property are inadequate to handle the traffic generated by the mobile home park.

In arguing his case, Noto presented a petition he said had been signed by 25 neighbors on Schulte Road, all supporting his proposed development.

FOUR SUPPORT NOTO

He was backed up by four Carmel Valley residents -- Herbert Brownell, Mrs. Loretta Pollack, C.R. Rothman and Ernest Olsen.

All contended that there is great need for moderately-priced homes for retired persons on the Monterey Peninsula and that Noto's plans for extensive landscaping and other amenities would assure a quality development.

Brownell said that many persons, such as himself, have no more use for a large family home, and that Noto's proposal would answer the question "where do I go?"

"It would be an asset to the area and a much-needed improvement," Brownell said.

Among those appearing in opposition was Gen. James H. Phillips, who argued that while Noto "is sincere in what he thinks about Carmel Valley . . . what he proposes is entirely against the Carmel Valley Master Plan."

Phillips said it has been his observation that mobile home parks "seem to attract expansion and seem to deterioriate."

Fred Naber, like Phillips, a resident of Del Mesa Carmel, cited traffic statistics from the County Road Department which show that the largest increase in traffic and highest accident rate along Carmel Valley Road in the past three years has been the stretch from Rio Vista Dr. to Schulte Road.

Naber said it would increase the hazard to have heavy vehicles driving along that portion of Carmel Valley Road.

Representing the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association, Ed Lee said that Noto's property lies on a flood plain and was underwater in 1958.

NOT A PROPER PLACE.

"This certainly is not a proper place for high density development of any sort," Lee said, adding that "it's very possible the Carmel River itself might run right through Joe's property before many years go by."

If there is to be rezoning, Lee said, it should be to Flood Plain 1. Noto's plan, he said, is a "proposal for a mobile house boat anchorage."

"If we really implement flood plain zoning," Supervisor Willard Branson commented, "we would wipe out Hacienda Carmel and half the population of Carmel Valley . . . if we used it as a zoning instrument to say someone couldn't build."

Chairman Arthur Atteridge said he doubts the usefulness of flood plain zoning because "some people want to build where they want to build."

Carl Hooper of George Bestor and Associates, who had worked with Noto on plans for the mobile home park, said that the development would be designed with flood protection in mind, and said that because the river was wide at that point in the Valley, it would be unlikely that flood waters would rise above 18 inches.

In voting to deny Noto's appeal, Atteridge said that "ways of living change . . . and the Carmel Valley Master Plan may be due for a change."

Sometime in the future, Atteridge said, the county will have to establish areas for mobile homes.

Petpourri

BY JUDITH EISNER

We saw a Siamese cat riding in a Volkswagen bus on Ocean Avenue yesterday, and that reminded us that it was time once again to think about taking your pet along on your vacation.

If your dog or cat is accustomed to joining the family in its activities, enjoys auto rides and is reasonably well behaved, taking the pet along on vacation is often the most satisfactory solution.

Thousands of animals travel each year -- by car, plane, train and ship. There are dogs and cats who are regular contestants in the showring and who travel "circuits", from city to city for the purpose of being exhibited. They spend their nights in motels with their owners and handlers, their days in station wagons and trailers "on the road."

The problems of travelling with a pet are more concerned with prevention than anything else. Even more than at home, you must realize and fulfill the responsibilities of pet ownership when you travel to strange places with an animal.

In the first place, you must accept the responsibility for controlling the animal at all times. Secondly, you must watch out for the animal's health, safety and well-being. Third, you must be constantly on the alert to make sure the pet does not create nuisances that not only annoy other human travelers, but that may prejudice people against the next pet that comes along.

If you are planning to fly to a vacation spot, most airlines are knowledgeable, helpful and equipped to accommodate your pet. In many instances, the animal flies on the same plane as his master, under the designation of "accompanied baggage" and at reduced rates. The airlines can help you with your individual needs.

Auto travel, with nightly stopoevers at motels, requires the greatest preparation for the pet owner.

You may want to pack a simple kit for the traveling pet. His food dish, comb and brush, blanket, toys, a can opener, and any other simple sundries can easily be stowed in a small bag. Any pet that "hits the road" should be equipped with a strong and well-fitting collar and leash. A worthwhile precaution is an identification tag that bears the owner's home address and phone -- if there is someone at home during your absence -- or, if your home is vacant, the name, address and phone of someone who can be reached should the pet be lost.

A current license tag from your home city should also be affixed to the collar. Since licenses are usually issued only to animals vaccinated against rabies, the license is generally sufficient proof of vaccination.

Tuck in with your papers a copy of his rabies vaccination certificate and a health certificate made out by your veterinarian prior to your trip.

You should have at least one good-quality leather leash and a tie-out chain that cannot be gnawed through. If you need to secure your dog -- say in a National Park -- it's nice to know that he'll be there when you return.

For cats, a sturdy cat carrier is almost a must for car travel and for confining the cat in motels or other places. Cardboard carriers are not dependable; you should invest in a wood and wire carrier at the very least, or in a steel one.

There are disposable cat litter pans available in supermarkets and you should have some in the car and purchase more along the way as needed. You cannot turn a cat out in a strange location each evening without courting disaster; you must provide for his needs.

If you pet eats any of the major brand names of pet food, you will be able to purchase them along the way. And, unless you are only going to be gone for a day or two, there's no practical reason to bring along water from home. Dogs and cats adjust to water changes with ease in most cases.

While driving, the dog should be made to sit or lie on the back seat, with his head inside the car. Permitting him to ride with his head out and ears flapping can cause ear and eye inflammations and foreign bodies to lodge in the eyes. Cats should travel in their carrier in moving cars.

You should not leave a leash dangling from a dog's collar in a moving auto. Should he be thrown off the seat by a sudden stop, he can be strangled by a tangled leash.

You will have to stop occasionally to exercise your dog and provide water for both dogs and cats, especially if the weather is hot and the car not air conditioned. Unless your cat is leash broken, we do not recommend exercising cats in unfamiliar territory.

If the human travelers stop for lunch or coffee or sightseeing, remember to park the car in the shade and leave at least two inches of window open all around. Cars rapidly become overheated even in moderate sunshine, and dogs and cats are prone to heat prostration. When you stop, try to park (and lock) the car in a spot where you can keep an eye on it during your break.

Your pet will be able to accompany you to most places you visit with the exception of indoor places such as restaurants and museums. Make it a point to try to take him along as much as possible, rather than leave him behind in the car.

Scientists Institute group to meet here in September

SIPI, the Scientists' Institute for Public Information, will hold a two-day environmental workshop for California newsmen at Rancho del Monte Country Club the weekend of Sept. 11.

Dr. Allen Nadler, SIPI secretary, said the seminar will provide background information about nuclear power reactors and energy needs, monitoring and standard setting for air and water pollution, the technical options in waste and sewage disposal, environmental effects of pesticides and problems of urban planning and population growth in California.

Representatives from small and medium-sized newspapers and television stations will be invited.

SIPI, a national organization with headquarters in New York and Monterey, is a non-profit, non-partisan educational organization which seeks to provide the public with the best available information on issues involving science.

It will be co-sponsoring the conference with the Council for the Advancement of Science Writing, a national group of science reporters and scientists.

Dr. Nadler will serve as program chairman and David Perlman, science editor of the San Francisco Chronicle and president of the National Association of Science Writers, will be co-chairmen.

Val Verde development plans up for review

Developer Thomas Gamboa will take his controversial development on Val Verde Drive to the Planning Commission again this morning at 9:15 a.m.

Gamboa is scheduled to submit a tentative subdivision map for his 45-unit "Casas de Carmel," along with an application for a use permit to begin construction.

Last month he presented a preliminary subdivision map, which ran into strong criticism from the commission as being "unimaginative" in layout and not providing sufficient off-street parking.

At the time there were also many questions raised regarding access from the proposed development to Carmel Valley Road, and the potential hazards caused by cars making U-turns on the divided roadway.

OTHER MATTERS

Also on this morning's agenda, at 10:30, is presentation of a preliminary subdivision map for Carmel Rancho Phase III, the final 13.2 acres of commercial development connected with the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center.

This plan has already received some criticism from the Carmel Planning Commission, which opposes using 3.2 acres of R-3 land as a paved parking lot and "buffer zone" between the commercial center and a residential area.

Two Carmel Valley sign applications will also be considered. The Hatch Cover Restaurant in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center is applying for an off-site sign facing on Carmel Valley Road. The Lower Valley Advisiry Committee has recommended denial.

In the Village area, the Adobe Oaks Motel is asking for permission to display credit card signs by the road. This, too, has been recommended for denial by the Upper Valley Advisory Committee.

An application by Roy Kaminske to have 25 acres he owns adjacent to the old S.F.B. Morse Ranch rezoned from five-acre minimum to one-acre minimum (KGJB4) will be received by the commission and set for hearing on July 28.

Breakthrough in relations between Odellos and OLAF

Brothers Bruno and Emilo Odello, representatives of OLAF and Carmel Mayor Barney Laiolo will meet with Supervisor Willard Branson today in an effort to select an appraiser for the artichoke ranch.

Today's meeting is a follow-up from an agreement reached Friday, in which the Odello brothers agreed "in principal" to sell just the western 155 acres of their ranch to OLAF or a public agency.

Previously the Odellos had insisted they would sell only the full 292 acres as a single unit.

In a joint statement issued Friday, it was agreed that the Odellos will go ahead as planned with their request for rezoning, which comes up again before the Planning Commission on July 28.

Meanwhile, the OLAF fund drive has gone above $250,000, including $50,000 from the City of Carmel's greenbelt fund earmarked for purchase of the western half of the Odello property.

This meets a prime condition set by the Odellos, who said OLAF must have at least $250,000 in "good faith money" by July 1 if the group hoped to try to reach any agreement to purchase the land for open space.

This is the statement issued on Saturday:

"Supervisor Willard Branson announced today a meeting held June 25 with Bruno Odello, Emilio Odello, John Odello, Fred Farr, Francis (Skip) Lloyd, Barney Laiolo, Keith Evans, Dr. Edward Marcucci, Leon Stutzman and Willard Branson. The meeting was called by Branson to discuss alternatives to the proposed "Odello development".

"As a result of this lengthy meeting, the Odellos agreed in principal to a division of their property allowing OLAF and/or a public agency or agencies to purchase only the western portion, if OLAF so desires, providing the Odellos do not suffer any financial loss from the division.

"The other parties to the agreement were Laiolo, Farr, and Lloyd, the latter two speaking for OLAF. It was further agreed to have the Odello property appraised by an MAI selected by chairman Branson and approved by the parties, in order to establish the fair market price for the property. Further meetings will be held in the very near future.

"In the meantime, it was agreed to by the parties that the meetings shall not in any way affect or delay the zoning application now pending."

Branson said that the three Planning Commission members, Marcucci, Evans and Stutzman, attended the meeting on Friday for informational purposes and "input" only.

EMERGENCY CALLS

Sunday was a busy day for the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department, starting at 6:55 a.m. when fire erupted above a free-standing fireplace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Parker on Rancho Road.

The small blaze, which apparently spread from the chimney to surrounding insulation, was extinguished with a garden hose. Damage was estimated at $100.

As 12:47 p.m. the department's ambulance was called to upper Carmel Valley Road by the Cahoon Ranch, where two persons were seriously injured when their motorcycle went out of control rounding a curve.

Nemrod Chilcoat, 23, and Katherine Chilcoat, 19, of Salinas, were taken to Community Hospital with multiple cuts and abrasions and possible internal injuires.

Later that afternoon, another motorcyclist, Bob Horen, of 43 Twin Oaks Drive, Monterey, went to the fire department for treatment of cuts on a hand and elbow resulting from a spill when his motorcycle blew a tire.

There were no other emergency calls last week.

Fire Chief Chip Collins reminds all Fourth of July celebrants that ALL fireworks, including sparklers, are illegal in Carmel Valley. If you must celebrate, Collins says, go to Carmel beach.

COMPACT size, BIG capacity!
Cook today's whole meal on the BALL-B-Q's 340-sq-inch split-level grills; and tomorrow's too! You have almost 90 sq. inches more cooking area than on the standard 18-inch grill. Close the all-weather hood and the top rack cooks at the same temperature as the lower one. Anything you can do in the oven—meat, potatoes, even dessert—you can do in the sword-winning BALL-B-Q, in the same length of time.
It's so easy to keep clean, too. No corners to catch grease and dirt.

IT'S A BEVERAGE COOLER TOO
Use ice cubes instead of charcoal to chill your favorite drinks, indoors or out.

No more Rust-out
Removable, heavyduty firepan cradles burning charcoal AWAY from the surface of the BALL-B-Q bowl to forestall rusting. It also catches drippings, keeps bowl cleaner.

In a few seconds remove the BALL-B-Q leg and convert it to a tabletopper, then it's an ideal height for boats, car trunks, campers, and for year-round use in the fireplace.

Big honor roll at Middle School for 4th quarter

A record number of students had straight "A's" at Middle School for the 4th quarter, Principal O.C. Rogers says.

There were 11 sixth graders and 13 seventh graders with perfect grades in all classes. "This is the highest in history and indicates both classes are strong academically," Rogers said.

The honor roll included 381 students in grades 6 thru 8 or 53 percent of the student body.

The honor roll:

Pebble Beach braces for star-studded party-packed Eastwood tourney

The second annual Clint Eastwood Celebrity Tennis Tournament July 3, 4 and 5 promises to be more star-studded and party-packed than last year's gala event.

Well-known celebrity and socialite figures signed up for competition this year include previous champion James "Lefty" Brown, returning to Pebble Beach for another try at the title he lost last year to TV producer Wendell Niles, jr.

The nine courts at the Beach and Tennis Club will be sparkling with celebrities, as 64 players battle over the nets in men's singles and doubles, women's doubles and mixed doubles.

Joining Pebble Beach resident Clint Eastwood in the competition will be Michael Dante, athlete-turned-actor, returning again to the Pebble Beach tourney. Dante was a professional baseball player before turning to Hollywood. The last ball club he started with was the Washington Senators.

Other well-known stars shining at Pebble Beach this weekend include Edgar Bergen, Dick Smothers, Jonathan Winters, Efrem Zimbalist, jr., Lloyd Bridges, Chris Connelly, Jim Franciscus, Doug McClure, Merv Griffin and George Peppard.

On the distaff side, tennis fans will see Dinah Shore, for years a serious player; Dorothy McGuire (of the singing McGuire Sisters), now the wife of Canadian financier Lowell Williamson; Nancy Chaffee Kiner, Palm Springs tennis pro; and S.F.B. Morse's granddaughter, Jabby (Mrs. Dennis) Walker Hess of Greenwich, Conn.

Nancy Kiner will be making her first appearance at the Celebrity. She is a former National Junior champion and three times won the National Ladies Indoor singles. Before turning professional, she had competed and won against every top rated woman player in the world.

From the socialite scene will be Darius Keaton, Chairman of the Board of Charter Oil, who lives in Pebble Beach. Keaton will have as his houseguest Jonathan Winters.

Charles Van Linge, a vice president of Mitchum, Jones and Templeton, Inc. of Palo Alto will be staying at his 17 Mile Drive "second home" during the competition. Van Linge is a leading state amateur golfer.

Count Betrand d'Avenas of Carmel, who has been vacationing in France for the past three months, will return home in time for tournament play.

Parties are as much a part of the Celebrity as the play itself.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gawthrop—he is president of Del Monte Properties Co.—and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Eastwood will co-host a private wlecome party for the players tomorrow night.

Saturday evening, Clint offers his Celebrity Gala at Del Monte Lodge. It provides cocktails, dinner and dancing to weary competitors. The tab is $25 per person. The Gala is hosted by the Behavorial Sciences Institute, beneficiaries of the Tournament. Along with players and members of the press, a limited number of tickets are available to the public.

A highlight of the Gala is the impromptu program with celebrities entertaining celebrities. Jonathan Winters has gone on record as saying to Eastwood, "Of course I'll do some sketches." Also appearing should be Edgar Bergen, Dick Smothers and Ed Ames—if they're not too exhausted from their rigorous day on the courts.

Sunday night, the Fourth of July, celebrities join Beach and Tennis Club members for their annual barbecue on the club pier. There will be a rock band for poolside dancing, New York steaks and fireworks.

Monday morning, Clint Eastwood has ordered a Fizz Party at the tennis courts, prior to and continuing through torunament play. Play ends at 4:00 when Eastwood presents the Tournament awards.

Tickets for the Celebrity, including gate fee to the 17 Mile Drive, are $4.00 per day for general admission; $10.00 for a three-day booster ticket; and $25.00 for tournament box seats. Special rates of $2.00 daily are available for military and children under 17 years of age.

Tickets may be obtained by writing Behavioral Sciences Institute Auxiliary, 969 Pacific St., Monterey, Calif. 93940 or by calling the Beach and Tennis Club, 624-0106; from Carmel Sports Shop and the Cork n' Bottle in Carmel; Monterey Sports Shop, Abinante's Music Store and Hastings in Monterey; at Del Monte Lodge in Pebble Beach; and at Brinton's in Carmel Rancho Center and Bill Hitchcock's Ski and Sports Shop in the Mid-Valley Shopping Center in Carmel Valley.

Six Valley men named to river advisory board

Supervisor Willard Branson yesterday nominated seven men to serve on an advisory board to assist the Army Corps of Engineers with flood control studies of Carmel Valley.

Nominated to serve on the committee were Ed Lee, Don Koontz, William B. Brown, Ed Haber, Luis Wolter, Tim Condon and David Stevens. All own property along the Carmel River and are familiar with problems of flooding.

Branson said the Corps of Engineers had requested the establishment of an advisory committee.

With Bob Wood In Sacramento

Recently a poll or questionnaire was taken by a fellow Assemblyman and good friend of mine, and the area he represents is somewhat similar to our own as far as the make up of Republicans and Democrats are concerned. In reading over the results I found them to be quite interesting and thought I would share them with you. Here are some of the leading questions and the results of each.

1. Do you favor reducing property taxes even if it means increasing other taxes to make up for the revenue loss? Yes - 5,066, No - 1,709.

2. Would you favor statewide lotteries for raising additional revenues? Yes - 4,602, No - 2,271.

3. Do you favor Nevada-style gambling in California to raise revenues? Yes - 2,715, No - 4,234.

4. Would you approve a Constutional Amendment permitting gas tax money to be used for rapid transit? Yes - 4,308, No - 2,452.

5. Here is an interesting one. From your observations do you feel that our public schools educational system is doing a satisfactory job in the following subjects: reading, mathematics, english, speeling, history and science? The results showed that the majority of the people felt that our educational system is doing a good job in science and mathematics but doing a poor job in english, spelling and history.

6. Two states recently liberalized their abortion laws. Would you support further liberalization of California's abortion laws? Yes - 3,906, No - 2,791.

7. Do you believe that the sale, possession and use of marijuana should be made legal? Yes - 1,307, No - 5,400.

8. Do you approve the recent Chavez boycott of California grapes? Yes - 1,592, No - 4,932.

9. Another poll in another District showed 69 percent of the people favored legalized prostitution and 31 percent opposed it.

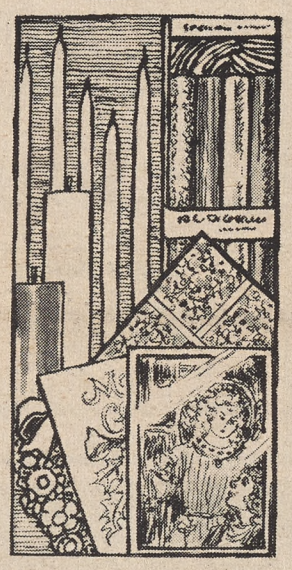
SHOP HOPPING

Exciting displays are being created at Peninsula Potters in preparation for their anniversary sale July 3 thru 11. This is a general sale at an unbelievable 50 percent off! The garden bells and pottery (sketched) are from many newly designed collections. The studio is interesting to visit . . . customers can watch and talk to potters as they work. Also -- call for the schedule of "Kiln Openings" . . . a fascinating experience at PENINSULA POTTERS CO-OP, 212 Hoffman Ave., Monterey. Near Cannery Row. Open daily 10 to 5. Phone 372-8867.

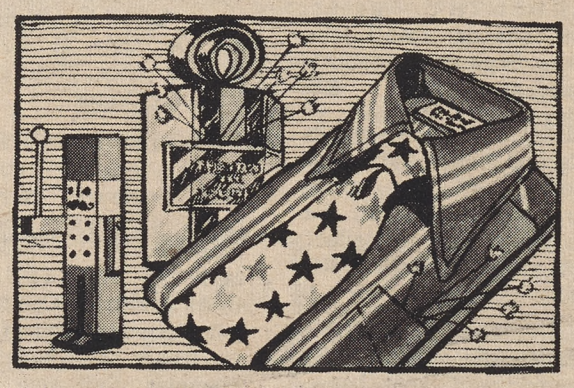


It's "Christmas in July" at Yarbro's . . . for one week only! Half-off on greeting cards, gift-wrap and candles. The collection of cards is wide and handsome . . . includes boxed imports beautifully designed and crafted. The gift-wrap can be purchased in boxed sets with yarn, in single rolls or packaged sheets . . . in solid or designed colors.

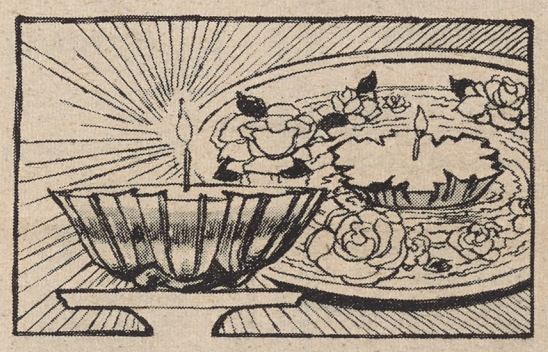
The candles range from tapers of all sizes and colors to various heights in the wide cylinder shapes. YARBRO'S, Ocean Ave. & Dolores, Carmel. Phone 624-8507.

Just arrived at Kramers . . . a new collection from Amalfi. As one of the great knit-fashion leaders, Amalfi has again created an exceptionally beautiful line for Fall. One style, Valentina (sketched), is of 100 percent wool, handloomed in Italy . . . a soft plaid with slightly-shaped jacket, saucy bow and flippant A-line skirt. Your choice of brown with white or rust with white, $125.

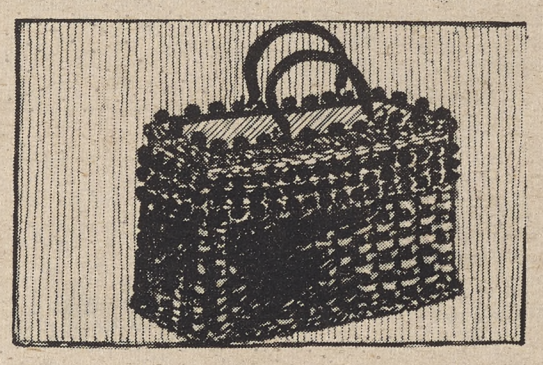
A little suit that travels with ease . . . exclusively with KRAMERS, Ocean Avenue, Carmel. Phone 624-4088. Closed Sundays.



Celebrate the "FOURTH" in a tie and-or shirt that will sparkle the holiday outfit you select to wear. Bold, dashing, brilliant color and fashion for the "stars and stripes man"! Illustrated: a wash-and-wear, rayon and cotton shirt in red or blue, $10.50 . . . tie of lined cotton with blue and red stars, $6.50. The gift-wrap (sketched) is both colorful and unusually individual. You will find every occasion neckwear fashion at THE RED and THE BLUE, Ocean Ave. and Monte Verde, Carmel. Phone 624-5205.

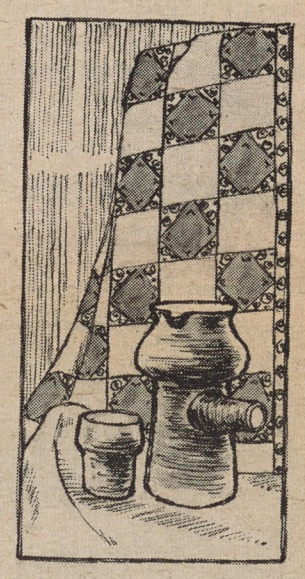


Exclusively with Candles of Carmel -- THE POOL FLOATER. They float in anything . . . pools, puddles, tubs or buckets! Unusually beautiful as table decor in large bowls surrounded with flowers. Colors: green, orange, pink or yellow - $2.75, individually boxed. Candles for all occasions including imports and original sculptures created by local artisans. An exciting collection at CANDLES OF CARMEL, Ocean Avenue and Monte Verde, Carmel, phone 624-7564.



Summery straw bags, practical and pretty...finished to wipe clean with a damp cloth. All lined and zippered, style sketch is compartmented. Honey colored, brown, black, and white accented with contrasting or matching plastic beads, brass hardware. They come in several sizes and are priced from $3.50 to $10. You'll find them at TROY'S GIFT SHOP in Carmel Valley Village (near the Post Office). Open daily and Sundays 10 til 6. Phone 659-4517.

"Golden Flight" - an exquisite, diamond accented, 18 K gold pin. Another emphasis on the remarkable craftsmanship and creative designing of Henri Corbat. He draws his inspiration from our beautiful surroundings . . . creating and producing, in his own workshop, designs of unsurpassed beauty. Birds in flight (sketched) is $252. For jewelry of heirloom quality discover HENRI CORBAT, Swiss Jewelers, San Carlos near 5th, Carmel. Phone 624-5621.



A most unusual find in today's world . . . the handmade patch quilt! Made locally for the Hermitage Shop, they are available in both full and twin sizes. The colors are predominately purple, aqua, beige, brown, red or yellow. Full size - from $45. Twin size - from $35. Original designs in pottery by Father Bruno of Paris, and Bro. Sinh of Viet-Nam are practical as well as beautiful.

Pitcher and mug (sketched) are a set for only $15. See these and many other rare, unusual items at the HERMITAGE SHOP (non-denominational), Mission and 8th, Carmel. Phone 624-7801.

LaCoste summer dresses from David Crystal exemplify the ultimate in classic design and easy care. Of 100 percent Dacron Polyester, they are hand washable with little or no ironing. The classic lines and flower-fresh colors travel everywhere in care free beauty. Sketched is but one of many styles. Colors are in a wide range of pinks, greens and yellows, also navy, red and white. Sizes 8 to 18, $36 to $40.

You'll find them at HOLMAN'S in Pacific Grove. Fashion Floor. S&H Green Stamps. Open Sundays 12-5. Phone 372-7131.

TACOS, ENCHILADAS and other tempting Mexican dishes are served both indoors and out at Blanquita's Restaurant in Carmel Valley Village. Here lunch is served on the patio.

Many fascinating places to dine in Carmel Valley

BY PAT GRIFFITH

What nature didn't provide in Carmel Valley, man did.

The rolling hills dappled with oaks and chaparral, the benevolent sun peering from a sky of pure azure, the calls of birds and the whiff of an ocean breeze -- all this is a feast for the eye and ear, nourishment for the soul.

But when the body cries out for something more substantial, Carmel Valley has that, too -- food ranging from simple to elegant served in a variety of settings.

The rich heritage of early California is reflected gastronomically in two restaurants in Carmel Valley Village.

One is the long-established Wills Fargo, something of a Valley landmark in its own right. "Will's," as it is known locally, is the spot where Valleyites invariably gather when they have something to celebrate -- an anniversary, a birthday, or maybe just the fact it's a Friday.

Steaks are the big item here, succulent, tender beef served in varying weights and cuts so you're assured of the perfect piece for your palate.

Wills is open at 5 p.m. for libations, and dinner is served Tuesdays through Saturdays from 6 to 11 p.m. On Sunday the dinner hour is served from 5 to 10:30 p.m. It is closed on Monday. Reservations are a must if you don't want a long wait before dinner.

The other restaurant with an early California flair is the Buckeye, which ranks as the newest restaurant in Carmel Valley.

Operated by Chuck and Sherry Woodson, the Buckeye offers vittles like Los Padres prime rib, Hitchcock Canyon lamb stew, Cachagua game hens or Pig's Vest with Buttons in a setting reminiscent of the West that Was.

Cocktails are served from 5 p.m., and dinner from 6 to 10 p.m. A sheltered patio in back attracts guests on balmy evenings. There is entertainment on Friday and Saturday nights to 1 a.m.

In the mood for dim lights and a cozy atmosphere, and yet a place that isn't too formal, either? Someplace to eat a good steak or maybe a broiled lobster?

Then the Hatch Cover Steak House at the mouth of Carmel Valley, in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center, may be just what you're after.

Tables of polished redwood and a nautical air greet diners. The menu, overprinted on a photograph of the ocean, lists steaks, lamb rack and lobster, served with rice or a baked potato.

Add some salad, coffee and ice cream for dessert and you've finished off a delicious, no-nonsense type of meal that has appeal any night of the week.

And it's worth noting that the Hatch Cover is open seven nights a week, serving from 6 to 10:30 p.m. on weekdays and from 6 to 11:30 p.m. on weekends. It has a separate cocktail lounge catering to your before or after dinner pleasures, plus live entertainment.

If the thought of tacos, enchiladas and chile rellenos makes your mouth water, head straight for Carmel Valley Village.

The Village has two uncommonly good Mexican restaurants which are open for lunch as well as dinner.

Two generations of the Diaz family preside over the Plaza Linda, located on Delfino Place in the building which houses the Village Art Center.

The atmosphere here is fresh and informal, with a broad range of Mexican specialties served a la carte or on combination platters. This is excellent food, well served.

Some items not found on every Mexican menu include Gallina con Mole (shredded chicken in a chile-chocolate sauce), Chorizo con Huevos (Mexican sausage in scrambled eggs) and Chile Verde (seasoned pork meat with peppers and tomatoes).

They do serve hamburgers if you have a child who refuses to eat anything else.

The Plaza Linda is open from 12 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and from noon to 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Sunday hours are 5:30 to 9 p.m., and it is closed on Monday.

"Pase Amigos" is the friendly greeting over the doorway of Blanquitas, on Carmel Valley Road near Pilot Road.

Blanquitas serves every day except Tuesday from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., offering diners a choice of Mexican and Mexican-oriented foods. This is the place to try a crab enchilada or sirloin choriso. A seafood platter, fried chicken, pork chops or ground round steak are available for those who prefer something a little less spicy.

The dining room is dark and somewhat formal in mood, with lots of wrought iron and Spanish-style furniture. In the back is a strictly informal patio, where outdoor eating is routine during the long summer season.

Tucked away in the heart of the Village is a gourmet restaurant that the visitor could easily pass by -- to his own great loss.

The Little European Restaurant, located next to the Village Market, is reminiscent of the small, quiet, out-of-the-way restaurants of France, and would surely rate stars in any Michelin Guide.

It offers local seafood, including Monterey Bay salmon and abalone steak, and an assortment of European specialties. Roulade of beef in burgundy, Piccata of veal a la Milanaise, Calf sweetbreads saute Grande Mere, Shashlik kaukasienne on pilaf rice and Fondue bourguinonne are all on the menu.

With 24-hour notice, you can have roast duckling a l'Orange.

Space is limited, and reservations are advised. Dinner is served from 6 p.m. every day except Sunday.

Can you imagine a place that intrigues the mind while it fills the inner man? Most cities would be hard-pressed to claim even one such place. Carmel Valley has two.

One is a gracious restaurant serving continental and American food that is also a library, with shelves of used books for buying or browsing.

The other is a major bookstore in an old barn that is popular for its hearty sandwiches, zesty soups and creamy cheesecake.

The first is the Carriage House, found on the north side of Carmel Valley Road as one enters the Village. Founded three years ago by a Boston couple, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, it blends the cozy, bookish warmth of Old New England with elegantly prepared meals.

Each day the menu is supplemented with a specialty of the house. The Smiths describe their Sunday specialty, Stuffed Game Hen, as a "savory bird crisp and juicily sizzling right from the oven under strips of hickory-smoked bacon, pungent Cumberland game sauce, and accompanied by an exquisite butter-grilled French crepe stuffed with Spinach and cheese."

This glowing description fits in with the literary atmosphere that makes the Carriage House so distinct. Used books are bought and sold, and all are available to be enjoyed by diners.

Salads and crab specialties are included on the luncheon menu, which is offered from noon until 2 p.m. Dinner is served from 6 to 10 p.m. It is closed Mondays and Tuesdays.

The other spot for people who find books and food equally irrestible is the Thunderbird, the large, refurbished barn in the back of the Valley Hills Shopping Center (this is about half way between the Mid-Valley Shopping Center, where Safeway is, and Highway 1. It is just east of Quail Lodge.)

The Thunderbird is, primarily, a bookstore, one of the largest, in volume of business, in Northern California. But almost half the floor space is given over to informal dining, where one has a choice of looking out at hills and fields or delving into a good new book.

Soup, sandwiches, beer, coffee, cheesecake and brownies are satisfying fare. This is a popular luncheon spot for localites, and a pleasant oasis when going to or from Carmel.

What about breakfast? The White Oaks Coffee Shop in the Village, a few doors down from the Post Office, is open for early-risers. So is Kearns in the Mid-Valley Shopping Center, the Valley Hills Coffee Shop and the Merry Peach in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center by Highway 1.

Still more likely breakfast spots are the Chatterbox in the heart of the Village, which is open from 6:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, and the Mad Hatter on Delfino Place, which opens for breakfast from 7:30 to 10:30 a.m., serves lunch from 12 to 3 p.m., and dinner from 6 to 9 p.m. It is closed on Sundays and Tuesdays.

Two places which attract a young clientele are the Encounter, a casual, sit and talk restaurant next to the Post Office, and the Country Inn coffee shop on Delfino Place. The Country Inn is installing a pool table this week, and will be open from noon to 2 a.m. daily except Sunday, serving cold sandwiches and beer.

Looking for something off-beat for lunch or afternoon tea? La Bagatelle, next to the Carmel Valley Post Office, would be a happy choice. This is a Russian tea room, rich with the aroma of home-made soups and pastries, in a setting bright with hand-made dolls and gilt knick-naks reminiscent of Old Russia.

LaBagatelle will soon be moving to a new location on Pilot Road, into the building formerly occupied by Dru Dunn's Keeping Room.

(And if you're looking for that savory restaurant, with Dru's savory condiments and jams and colorful placements, you'll find the Keeping Room all intact on Junipero near Fifth in Carmel.)

No listing of Carmel Valley eating spots would be complete without reference to four resorts which have long symbolized the Valley's reputation for gracious hospitality.

The Carmel Valley Inn, Los Laureles Lodge, Rancho del Monte Country Club and Robles del Rio Lodge all welcome mealtime guests who have called in advance for reservations.

Tourists staying in Carmel frequently plan to spend a day in the Valley, arriving before lunch and staying on in the afternoon to enjoy swimming or tennis.

The Carmel Valley Inn has two shows nightly, except Mondays and Tuesdays. Presently appearing is Barry Rose in a one-man show, singing and accompanying himself on the guitar or banjo. His numbers range from classic to popular.
